Part 2. Progressing your Cupping Skills to Treat Specific Fascial Dysfunction

Wed May 9th 6.00 PM – 9.00 PM

PRESENTED BY ROBERT GRANTER (BSocSciAdDipAppSci)

WHERE: RMIT University CBD MELBOURNE

COST: $180 PARTS 1 AND 2

WHAT:

Do you want to learn the essential fundamentals of this highly effective tool for mobilising dysfunctional hypomobile myofascial tissue?

Gaining competency in Vacuum Cupping will give your Clinical skills a huge positive leap forward and take a significant load off your own body.

This course will introduce you to the keys skills required.

This is not aggressive cupping and it is not traditional Vacuum Cupping where vacuum is induced by flame, This method will induced vacuum via the vacuum pump method and is sufficiently precise and highly monitored to be useful in a multidisciplinary setting.

You will be taught the indications for its use and the relative & absolute contra-indications for the technique.

You will study the skills required to perfect the treatment technique for maximising effectiveness and limiting adverse tissue reaction.

You will be able to introduce this technique into your clinic immediately.

All cupping equipment is supplied. Low participants numbers to maximize your learning.

Additional techniques will be presented and practiced to off load your fingers & thumbs.

COURSE PRESENTER: Robert Granter.

Rob has had 25 Years experience in Remedial Massage / Soft tissue therapy within clinical sports medicine practice and currently teaches in the Myotherapy program at RMIT University. Rob was one of the first to introduce Vacuum cupping into the Australian Sports Medicine Multidisciplinary model by its inclusion as a technique in the 1st Edition of CLINICAL SPORTS MEDICINE in 1993.
